PREFACE

This is the first time that the Housing Census has been conducted in India. As such, it has been my privilege to write the first Housing Report on Madras State. The report with subsidiary and inset tables will be found in Part IV-A of this series. The tables based on the data collected during Houselisting have been presented in the form of five tables in this volume. It has proved a difficult task and has added to the complexity of the present Census. I hope that the data on housing will be useful in studying the housing conditions and to plan for the future.

P. K. NAMBIAR
Superintendent of Census Operations.

TABLE E-I

CENSUS HOUSES AND THE USES TO WHICH THEY ARE PUT

E-I—FLY LEAF

Table E-I exhibits all the Census houses found in Madras State in October 1960 classified into 12 broad categories depending on the uses to which they are put. Each Census house is a unit for work or living and the classification has been made without any reference to its size or importance. It is viable and can be easily distinguished. It may be used as a dwelling, a shop-cum-dwelling or a place of business, school or workshop. It can be inhabited or vacant. It can be a structure or part of a structure.

The Census houses have been divided for the purpose of this table into 12 general categories depending on the uses to which they are put. The captions used in the classification are self explanatory. Explanatory notes are however furnished below:—

(1) Dwellings:—

Census houses solely used as residence.

(2) Shop-cum-dwellings:—

A house in which a portion is used as a shop and the other portion is used as a residence. Such Census houses belong to this category, which are engaged in petty trade located in the premises in which persons live.

(3) Workshop-cum-dwellings:—.

If a portion of a residence is utilised by the owner or any other person as a workshop, it becomes a workshop-cum-dwelling. It should be distinctly understood that the nature of activity in that Census house should refer to manufacturing, processing, repairing or servicing of an article. Then only, the Census house will become a workshop-cum-dwelling.

(4) Hotels, Hostels, Sarais, Dharmshalas, Tourist homes and Inspection houses:—

A distinction has been made between a hotel and a restaurant. Hotels refer to eating houses which have facilities for boarding and lodging.

(5) Shops excluding eating houses:—

This is a place where purchase and/or sale is effected in retail or wholesale trade on a small scale for cash or credit.

(6) Business houses and offices:—

This category includes all Government Offices, Banks, Commercial firms etc.

(7) Workshops, Factories and Worksheds:—

This category covers Factories, Workshops and Worksheds. All Census houses in which production, processing, repairing or servicing is effected–whether on a large scale or small scale–are included in this category. For this purpose, no distinction has been made between registered and unregistered factories.

Factory has been defined as any premises where 10 or more workers are employed, or have worked on any day of the preceding 12 months and in which the manufacturing process is conducted with the aid of power or where 20 or more persons are so employed and the manufacturing etc., is conducted without the aid of power. It will not include a mine coming under the Indian Mines Act XXXV of 1952. All units, whether they are covered by the Factories Act or not, are listed in this category. Workshop and workshed refer to smaller units than the factory where production, processing, repairing or servicing is carried on.

Workshop or Factory excluded production, processing etc., through Agriculture, Livestock, Forestry, Fishing, Hunting, Mining, Quarrying, Construction, Electricity, Water, Sanitary Services, Personal Services etc. Thus Photo Studio, Motion picture producing Studio, Power House, Barber shop, Laundry, where there may be some kind of production or processing etc., have been excluded from this category as these come under Recreation Services or Personal Services. In other words, such of those items, which fall under Standard Industrial Codes 200 to 399 alone have been classified under this category.

(8) Schools and other educational institutions including training classes, coaching and shop classes:—

Typewriting and Shorthand Institutions are also grouped with this category.

(9) Restaurants, Sweetmeat shops and eating places:—

These have been clearly distinguished from hotels under category (4). Restaurants refer only to eating houses without any facility for lodging.

(10) Places of entertainment and community gathering:—

This category includes Sabhas, Music or Drama halls.

(11) Public Health and Medical Institutions, Hospitals, Health centres, Doctor's clinics, Dispensaries etc.:—

This excludes Dispensing Chemists (i.e.) Chemists and Druggists not attached to a clinic. Such cases have been tabulated under "Shops".

(12) Others:—

Occupied Census houses used for all other purposes and which could not be put under any of the above categories are shown in this category (e.g.) Temple ; Photo Studio ; Laundry ; Barber shop ; Fire Station ; Railway Station etc., either independently or combined with dwelling.

This table also presents the number of Census houses vacant at the time of houselisting during October 1960. It exhibits the actual conditions at that time without any reference to the possibility that it would be occupied in the near future.

In addition, the total number of Buildings has been given to have a comparative picture between Buildings and Census houses.

In Madras State there exists an up-to-date and effective house-numbering System. The definition adopted in this system has been used for Census purposes also. As per this system, a building is defined as a unit which is recognised and given a number. Every building with a separate main entrance is treated as an entity and given a number by which it can be distinguished from outside.

The table furnishes the figures separately for rural and urban sectors for the State with break-up for each district. Then, the rural and urban figures for each of the taluks and for each of the City and Town with a population of 50,000 or more in each district have been furnished. In the case of cities and towns, their areas have also been exhibited under column (2) of the table.

Detailed analysis on the data presented in this table has been made in Chapter III of the "Report on Housing and Establishments", published separately as Vol. IX, Part IV–A in the series of Census Publications relating to this State.

TABLE E-II

TENURE STATUS OF SAMPLE CENSUS HOUSEHOLDS LIVING IN CENSUS HOUSES USED WHOLLY OR PARTLY AS DWELLING

E-II—FLY LEAF

This table exhibits a sample of Census Households found in Madras State in October 1960 classified by the tenure status and the nature of Census Houses, i.e., Pure Dwellings; Shop-cum-Dwellings; Workshop-cum-Dwellings and Dwellings with other uses. Unlike Tables E-I and E-III this has been prepared on a 20 per cent systematic sample of households.

" Census household " refers to a group of persons who commonly live together and take their meals from a common mess unless the exigencies of work prevent any of them from doing so. A Census house can be occupied by one household or more. Institutions, catering houses and boarding houses are also households, where unrelated persons live together In our country, as the standard of living is low, it is likely that a good proportion of Census houses will be occupied by more than one household and as such, a clear distinction has been made between a " Census house " and a " Census household " so that a proper assessment of our requirements and conditions of living can be made. A Census house refers to a structure while Census household refers to a group of persons.

The information collected for all the households is not exhibited in this table and Tables E-IV and E-V. But only a portion of the household information, i.e., 20 per cent have been tabulated and presented in these tables. The sampling technique adopted in the tabulation is 20 per cent systematic sample of households with a random start.

Sampling has been marked in one series (i) for each of the cities and towns with a population of 50,000 and over (ii) all the rural areas in a taluk and (iii) all the urban areas other than those with a population of 50,000 and over in a district. The first sample household for each of the three strata was selected at random. After taking this household, every fifth household as appeared in the houselist volumes was selected as further sample for tabulation.

The sample households have been classified at the first instance by the nature of Census houses occupied by them, i.e., Pure Dwellings; Shop-cum-Dwellings; Workshop-cum-Dwellings and Dwellings with other uses. Each of these sample census houses has been sub-classified by the tenure status.

The tenure status has been divided into two main categories, viz., Owned and Rented. In actual tabulation, we have added a third calssification to indicate unspecified tenure, because, in some cases the enumerators did not indicate the tenure status in the houselist.

The classification 'Owned' and 'Rented' will, prima facie, appear to be simple. But, on a detailed analysis, they present certain practical difficulties. The basis on which these difficulties have been solved is indicated below :—

A residence has been classified as 'Owned' if the superstructure is the property of a person residing in that census house. It could be that the land on which the superstructure stood was not owned by the resident. Also the superstructure was constructed either by encroaching on Government land or other people's land, the occupant being liable to be evicted at any time by any proceeding initiated by the Government under Land Encroachment Act or by due process in a Court of law. There were also instances where some tribes and castes who lived by moving from place to place carried the materials required for the construction of house from place to place. All such categories have been classified as 'Owned'.

'Rented' is more easy of definition. It also includes rent-free dwelling to which normally rent will be payable but for which rent is not paid for certain considerations.

All houses which are allotted to persons under certain conditions that they will become their own after a number of years, by a co-operative society or the State Government have been classified as 'Owned' though they are technically only rented till the period of repayment is over.

Similar to Tables E-I, E-IV and E-V this table has also been constructed separately for rural and urban sectors of the State with break-up for each district. Thereafter, the rural and urban figures for each of the taluks and for each of the city and town with a population of 50,000 and above in each district have been presented.

Detailed discussions of the data presented in this table will be found in Chapter IV of the "Report on Housing and Establishments", published separately as Volume IX; Part IV-A in the series of census publications relating to this State.

TABLE E-III

CENSUS HOUSES USED AS FACTORIES AND WORKSHOPS CLASSIFIED BY INDUSTRY, POWER USED, NO POWER (WITH OR WITHOUT MACHINERY) AND SIZE OF EMPLOYMENT

E-III—FLY LEAF

Table E-III presents detailed sub-classification for those Census houses which have been classified as "Workshop-cum-dwelling" and "Workshops and Factories" in table E-I. This table has been constructed on "Full Count" basis. This table presents a threefold classification of the establishments, the primary classification being the nature of industry, the second being the kind of fuel or power used and the third being the size of employment.

As already explained in fly leaf for table E-I, there should be production, processing, repairing or servicing either independently or combined with purchase or sale in an establishment to qualify itself as a "Workshop-cum-dwelling", "Workshop" or "Factory". Such "Production, processing etc." should exclude production etc., through Agriculture, Livestock, forestry, fishing, hunting, mining, quarrying, construction, electricity, water, sanitary services, personal services etc. Depending upon the nature of article produced, processed, repaired or serviced, the establishments have been classified into two divisions, twenty major groups and one hundred and sixty-two minor groups. In such classification, Divisions 2 and 3, their major groups and minor groups of the Indian Standard Industrial classification issued by the Director of Employment Exchanges, Directorate General of Employment and Training, Ministry of Labour and Employment, Government of India, have been adopted. This system is closely related to international usage as recommended by the International Labour Organisation. The description of the industrial classification and the authenticated code numbers devised on the digit system are printed as an appendix to this table.

Each of the industry has been further sub-divided by the kind of power or fuel used and the size of industry in terms of the number of workers engaged in the operation of the Workshop or Factory.

Information on power or fuel has been elicited only in cases where a machinery was actually used in the workshop or factory. As such, all cases where no machinery is used with or without fuel or power or where no power or fuel is used with machinery have been classified as "W.F." The remaining cases have been classified as follows :—

All Fuel:— Workshop or Factory which is operated by machinery with some kind of fuel or power.
E:— Workshop or Factory which is operated by machinery using Electricity.
L:— Workshop or Factory which is operated by machinery using Liquid fuel.
C:— Workshop or Factory which is operated by machinery using coal, wood or bagasse.
O:— Workshop or Factory which is operated by machinery using any other kind of power or fuel.

The third sub-classification depends upon the average number of persons employed daily in the week preceding the date of enumeration in October 1960. In calculating the number of persons working, paid or unpaid apprentices, owner or proprietor, and family members of the proprietor, if working, were also taken into account in addition to paid employees and labourers. To arrive at the average number, the total number of persons working on all days of the week preceding the date of enumerator's visit was divided by seven or six if any holiday intervened. For tabulation purposes, the average number of persons engaged have been grouped into 8 class intervals as indicated below :—

1 Person
2— 5 Persons
6— 9 Persons
10—19 Persons
20—49 Persons
50—99 Persons
100 Persons and above
size of employment not enumerated.

This table is presented separately for rural and urban sectors of the State and each of the 13 districts and also for the cities and towns with a population of 50,000 and above. But unlike other E-series tables, this table is not presented for the taluks. However, it is proposed to give in the District Census Handbook, the industries arranged in ascending order of minor groups showing the total number of establishments within brackets next to each minor group.

A detailed inset table based on the information presented in table E-III furnishing the number of persons engaged in each type of industry under each kind of power or fuel together with detailed discussions on the data presented in this table will be found in Chapter V of "Report on Housing and Establishments", published separately as Volume IX, Part IV-B in the series on Census Publications relating to this State.

TABLE E-IV

DISTRIBUTION OF SAMPLE HOUSEHOLDS LIVING IN CENSUS HOUSES USED WHOLLY OR PARTLY AS DWELLING BY PREDOMINANT MATERIAL OF WALL AND PREDOMINANT MATERIAL OF ROOF

E-IV—FLY LEAF

This table exhibits the wall and roof materials for the Census houses occupied by the 20 per cent sample households, selected for the sample tabulation, a detailed account of which is given in the fly leaf for Table E-II.

The quality of housing is to a large extent determined by the material used for the construction of houses. Any improvement in the economic standard of the occupant of a house is to a large extent reflected by his desire to choose a house with better quality of material for wall and roof. As such, this table will throw considerable light on the standard of habitation available in different parts of Madras State.

The wall material has been classified into 10 categories and the roof material into 8 categories as indicated by the captions in the table, which is self explanatory.

Similar to E-I, E-II and E-V, this table has also been constructed separately for rural and urban sectors of the State, district and taluks. Separate figures for each of the 28 cities and towns with a population of 50,000 and above have also been presented.

The data presented in this table have been interpreted in great detail with such a broad outline in Chapter VI of the "Report on Housing and Establishments", published separately as Volume IX; Part IV-A in the series of census publications relating to this State.

TABLE E-V

SAMPLE HOUSEHOLDS CLASSIFIED BY NUMBER OF MEMBERS AND BY NUMBER OF ROOMS OCCUPIED

E-V—FLY LEAF

Table E-V exhibits the total number of rooms occupied by the 20 per cent of sample households selected for the sample tabulation, a detailed account of which is given in the fly leaf for Table E-II. This table also gives the total of males and females constituting the 20 per cent of sample households. Besides, it also furnishes the break-up of the sample households and its members by sex occupying no regular room, one room, two rooms, three rooms, four rooms and five rooms and above. The number of households in respect of which the number of rooms occupied by them have not been recorded by the enumerators have been shown separately.

This is an important table having a direct bearing on the congestion in the household as this table forms the basis for estimating the number of rooms occupied by each household and the number of persons per room. According to the definition, a room should usually have four walls with a doorway with a roof overhead and should be wide enough to enable a tall man to sleep in, i.e., it should be at least 5 feet long. Unenclosed varandahs, kitchen, storeroom, garage, cattle-shed and latrine were not treated as rooms.

Similar to E-I, E-II and E-IV tables, this table has also been constructed separately for rural and urban sectors of the State, districts and taluks together with separate figures for each of the 28 cities and towns with a population of 50,000 and above.

Interpretation of the data presented in this table has been made in Chapter VII of the "Report on Housing and Establishments" published separately as Volume IX; Part IV-A in the series of Census publications relating to this State.
